Mary Lee Rounds and Winston Higgins attended an informational meeting on winter road maintenance. The State of Maine DOT no longer uses sand on the roads, instead they use liquid calcium and treated salt, other towns in the area are following suit with favorable results. It appears the cost may be lower than sand and salt with less corrosion on the vehicles. Other benefits include no spring clean-up of the roads, no loss of drainage ditches and other financial benefits. Further research will be needed to determine the cost and benefits of this method of road maintenance.

Applications for concealed weapon permits were discussed and signed.

Thirteen properties in the town of Albion have been foreclosed, as of 12/06/2011. Further action will be discussed with the property owners over the next few weeks.
